

WASHINGTON IS ANGRY.

Residents of Capital Indignant at Mrs. Morris' Ejection

FROM THE WHITE HOUSE.

Secretary Barnes Ceased—Considered to Have Shown Poor Judgment—Congressman Hall Will Not Aid His Sister.

Washington, Jan. 6.—Great indignation and much adverse comment has been aroused here over the treatment Thursday at the White House of Mrs. Minor Morris, sister of Congressman A. T. Hull, who was forcibly removed because she persisted in trying to see the President. The action of the police in dragging her several hundred feet over muddy walks and tearing her clothing, is freely characterized as an outrage.

There is a disposition in many quarters to blame Assistant Secretary Barnes for the brutal treatment to which the woman was subjected. President Roosevelt himself knew nothing of the affair.

Because of the prominence of Mrs. Morris, the case has been discussed, and at the diplomatic reception at the White House Thursday night the affair was about the only subject of comment. What has added to the feeling in the matter is that a negro porter attached to the White House, when he saw the trouble the police were having, rushed out and helped push the woman along.

One view of the case seems to be that Mrs. Morris was in the wrong in trying to force herself on the President and in persisting in remaining in the White House offices when ordered out by Mr. Barnes. She was overwrought and violent, and the officers were compelled to use great force, as she is a powerful woman, but they were led by circumstances into going too far and bringing about a distressing scene, which might have been avoided had more discretion been used by Mr. Barnes.

There is no disposition among those most familiar with the facts to uphold Mrs. Morris' conduct, but, at the same time, there seems no doubt that Mr. Barnes and the officers showed poor judgment.

The fact the woman was found to be sane and Secretary Leob lodged a charge of insanity against her after it was found she would be released on bail on a disorderly charge, has not helped the official side of the case.

Mr. Barnes' view was that the woman's violence was such as to justify her forcible removal from the office, and that she brought the treatment upon herself.

Mr. Hull is estranged from his sister owing to an old quarrel over the estate. He will do nothing in her behalf.

Mrs. Morris is now in a state of nervous collapse. In response to inquiries she sent word by a friend that, although she deeply felt the humiliation to which she had been subjected, she intended to let the matter drop.

Dr. Morris will reach this city today from Ohio.

Hamilton, O., Jan. 6.—Dr. Minor Morris is working the farm of his brother-in-law here. He was last seen last fall. Neither Dr. Morris nor the family would make any statement today regarding the Washington incident.

POISONER DIES IN JAIL.

Jane Robinson Killed Her Husband and Two Children.

Boston, Jan. 6.—Mrs. Jane Robinson, the poisoner who had been serving a life sentence in the Middlesex jail at East Cambridge, died Thursday night. She had been in poor health for some time and heart disease was her trouble.

With the exception of Mrs. Jane Toppan, now confined in the Taunton institution, Mrs. Robinson was the most noted woman criminal Massachusetts ever had. She was convicted of the murder of one of her sons about eighteen years ago. It was also shown that she had made away with her husband and daughter and several other persons, but the conviction was upon poisoning Prince Robinson, her son. Her object in killing her relatives was to obtain insurance money. She was 63 years old.

BEATEN BY PICK-UPS.

Eagles Waited for Montpelier Bowlers in Vain.

A bowling game was scheduled for last evening between the Eagles of this city and the Capitals of Montpelier. The Eagles lost the game by two strings to one. This is the first game scheduled to be played between the Capitals and any Barre team which the Barre team has lost—how did it happen that the Eagles lost? Oh! team, picked up at home and let the Capitals played Alexander's allies roll it off for them. Smith of the picked team was high man, securing high single of 242 and high three string total of 622.

FINE CIGARETTE SMOKERS.

Action by the Worcester Cigar Makers' Union.

Worcester, Jan. 6.—An unprecedented stand in the matter of smoking was taken Thursday night by the local cigar-makers' union. According to a vote passed by the union Thursday night any member of the organization found guilty of smoking a cigarette will be fined $3 for each offense. The new rule of the union was taken, it was said, to protect the sick benefit fund. An investigation by the sick committee showed that of the members who drew sick benefits the cigarette smokers were found to be in the majority, and it was also argued that more death claims were paid to the families of men who had not been addicted to the habit. The members of the union are permitted to smoke pipes or cigars, the rule applying only to paper cigarettes.

CUT BABY'S HEART OUT.

Two Alleged "Witches" Executed for Crime in Havana.

Havana, Jan. 6.—Domingo Bocourt, an old negro, and Victor Molina, a mulatto, were garroted at the prison here yesterday morning. Both men were regarded as "witches" by their associates. Their crime was the hideous murder of a white baby, Zoila Diaz, for the purpose of procuring the heart of a white female child which they prescribed as a poultice for a certain woman. The child's body was found, smoked and salted weeks after the crime.

DUG OUT GOLD FILLINGS FOR SICK WIFE'S NEEDS

New York Broker, Formerly Rich, Reduced to Desperate Straits at Denver.

Denver, Col., Jan. 6.—In squalid quarters with a sick wife in an adjoining room, Emanuel Williams, a former New York broker, later an owner of rare horses on the Pacific coast, sat digging gold fillings from his teeth when humane society officers found him yesterday. Williams had already knocked out several gold teeth and crowns and sold the gold to obtain food and medicine for his wife. Williams declined the officers' offer for aid.

The couple came here three months ago from San Francisco. In his prosperous days Williams conducted a brokerage office in New York city, and is said to have wealthy relatives there.

MR. MORAN IS ILL.

District Attorney Will Be Unable to Resume Duties for Several Days.

Boston, Jan. 6.—District Attorney John R. Moran is ill in bed at his apartment in The Narrows, and probably will be unable to attend to his official duties for several days. He looks exhausted and plainly shows signs of fatigue and overwork. It is said that the five weeks he has spent in the district attorney's office have been a great strain upon him, especially so as he has frequently worked until late in the night and has devoted much more time to his official duties than was customary with his predecessors in the office.

SIGSBEE'S EYE ON MOROCCO.

North Atlantic Squadron to Be Near by When Conference is Held.

London, Jan. 6.—The announcement is made that the second squadron of the American North Atlantic fleet, in command of Rear Admiral Charles D. Sigsbee, will be at Gibraltar, with its near Algerian, about the time the Moroccan conference assemblies.

This statement has aroused lively interest in diplomatic circles here.

Miss Daly Was Cured of a Severe Cough by Father John's Medicine.

My daughter, Mabel, had a hacking cough that she could not get rid of, so she tried Father John's Medicine and was entirely cured and has been in the best of health since. I gladly recommend it to anyone with such trouble. (Signed) E. M. Daly, 77 Fountain street, Haverhill, Mass.

IMPORTANT TO KNOW.

Father John's Medicine is not a patent medicine. Contains no alcohol or injurious drugs. It cures colds, coughs and all throat and lung troubles, drives all impurities out of the blood, and builds up the system.

BATTLE ON THE PHILIPPINES

Clark (Mo.) Speaks on Tariff Measure.

BILL WILL HAVE SUPPORT

Free Trade, However, Is What They Desire—He Is Astonished by the Reports as to the Islands.

Washington, Jan. 6.—Debate on the Philippine tariff bill was continued in the House yesterday. Mr. Clark (Mo.) opened the discussion with a speech devoted in particular to the German tariff situation. He prefaced this with a brief reference to the bill under consideration. Speaking of the area and productiveness of the Philippine Islands, Mr. Clark said he had never been so much surprised since a Republican beat him for Congress in 1894. "You could," he said, "run the whole island into the congressional district represented by Mr. Stevens of Texas." Stating the Democratic position on the bill, he said his party would vote for it although in committee the Democrats had voted against it, simply because the Democratic substitute for absolute free trade had not been supported by the Republicans.

Speaking as an absurdity the enormous amount of sugar that the Philippines are supposed to produce, Mr. Clark gave the amount raised in the United States proper, and also the production in which he included Hawaii, Porto Rico and the Philippines. The Ways and Means Committee, he said, had been informed by sworn statements that every acre in the Philippines would be planted in tobacco and by the sugar people that these same acres would be planted in sugar. It all reminded him of draw poker or the game of ducks and drakes.

MORALES ELIMINATED.

Legally Impached by the San Domingo Congress.

Washington, Jan. 6.—The secretary of war yesterday received the following cablegram from Col. Cohen, the military attaché and general receiver of Dominican customs, dated Santo Domingo, Jan. 2: "Carlos F. Morales legally impached by Congress—Raymond Caceres acting in accordance with the constitution pending final action proceeding supreme court. This eliminates Carlos F. Morales from the situation and leaves without question the legality of Raymond Caceres' government. The government acting in conservatism and adhering to the constitution. Peace condition as reported yesterday. Carlos F. Morales not yet heard from."

FAVOR CONSULAR BILL.

Senate Committee on Foreign Relations Considers Measure.

Washington, Jan. 6.—The Senate committee on foreign relations yesterday continued consideration of the consular reorganization bill. From the discussion it appeared that a majority of the members will vote to report the bill favorably, but the Democratic opposition will be so strong that it is unlikely that the measure can be brought to a vote in the Senate.

Several more meetings of the committee will be required to perfect the bill.

JEWISH OUTRAGE PROTEST.

Representative Sulzer Plans Demonstration in Washington.

Washington, Jan. 6.—Representative Sulzer has arranged for a demonstration against persecution of the Jews in Russia to be held Sunday evening, Jan. 14, at the Belasco Theatre here. Senators, representatives and prominent clergymen have promised to attend.

The president and secretary of state will be urged to protect to the Russian government against the Jewish outrages.

PROCRASTINATION

The Habit of Delay—Some of Its Consequences—Causes of This Bad Habit.

"Defer not till tomorrow to be wise. Tomorrow's work to-day may never run."

Truly it has been said that procrastination is the thief of time. The habit of delay is one of the most vicious faults to which mankind is subject. In almost every instance delays are entirely unnecessary and are often due to carelessness, but more often to thoughtlessness. Strange as it may seem, this danger from delay is encountered more often as a result of carelessness or thoughtlessness about our health or the health of someone dependent upon us. How often pneumonia could be prevented if the victim had acted sooner.

Now is the time to watch out for that little cold. Now is the time to take steps to check it, and the best way to arrest its progress is to take Mages' (Malt) Emulsion. This is the wonderful combination of Cod Liver Oil, strychnine, non-alcoholic Malt and Hypophosphites. It primes the system so that it will throw off that "little cold" and prevent such serious complications as pneumonia, bronchitis, grip, etc. Mages' (Malt) Emulsion is non-narcotic and non-alcoholic. Nothing enters into its composition that is not of value to the system. It produces heat, keeps you warm and makes you strong. Mages' (Malt) Emulsion is a food, a medicine and a tonic combined. Beware of the wine preparations of cod liver oil. They contain no oil, so cannot possibly produce the benefits sought. Besides, the alcohol will cause a reaction after you cease taking it, that will leave you in a worse condition than before.

Mages' (Malt) Emulsion will surely help you. Start taking it today and a month later compare yourself with your condition of today. Don't delay tomorrow never comes. Remember, no wine, no whiskey, just food. Get a bottle today of E. A. Drown, Druggist, 48 North Main street, Barre, Vt.

MR. TINKER'S FALL FROM GRACE

[Original.]

Tinker was his name—Everard Leroy Tinker—and a more spiritual man had never come to our city. His forehead was broad and high; his eyes were large enough and blue enough and soft enough for an angel. I believed in him then, and I believe in him now. The moment a man sets himself up to be a spiritual guide for others we immediately put him on a pinnacle of our own from which he shall shed the light of perfection. He is no longer a man like ourselves, but a superior being freed from earthly passions, earthly weaknesses.

Tinker was an evangelist, was fitted to be an evangelist and was fitted for nothing else than an evangelist. He chose for his specialty prison life. When he came to us there was not even a regular prison chaplain, none being willing to take the position for the pay and the regular ministers being otherwise occupied. Tinker walked into it of his own accord and occupied it without remuneration. How he got a living we never knew. That he lived from hand to mouth was certain. After praying in a saloon and warning its proprietor that he was doing the devil's work the holy man would be invited to partake of the free lunch on the counter, and in this way he secured many a dinner. For short periods he would occupy a sleeping room, but the landlady did not expect him to pay from the first. All she asked was that he would not stand in the way of a paying lodger, and she would often have been the loser had Tinker permitted it.

In such ways Tinker managed to exist, and so long as he could fight sin and give comfort to prisoners, possibly turning them toward a better life after serving their terms, he was satisfied. He prayed with them, he talked with them, he advised them, being a repository for the confidence of the whole prison. He had free access to them, and both guards and prisoners all knew him.

No one had ever thought of Tinker as a husband or father. When one day a woman with a scowl on her face and an underjaw denoting resolution came along to claim him as her spouse great was our astonishment. Her appearance had a paralyzing effect upon Tinker. Those whom he had exhorted to stand up against calamity now endeavored to instill a like firmness into him, but without success. The woman went to the court, produced divorce papers with alimony and proved that $504 was due her from the delinquent Tinker. She had little difficulty in getting an order for his arrest, and he was required to give a bond not only for the amount due, but for the coming year, in all about $1,000.

Had any one confidence that Tinker would be able to make up the amount we might have gone on his bond. As it was, the judge sent him to the workhouse to work out the amount. Meanwhile Tinker was confined in the city jail where he had been the self constituted chaplain. Why he had not applied for that or some other such position was now made clear. The woman with the square mouth and the beetling brow stood ready to pounce upon his salary before it was due. The method of obtaining a living he had chosen gave him a freedom that must have been relatively delightful.

I took it upon myself to go to Mrs. Tinker to see if I could soften her obdurate heart. The volley of words she poured upon me I can only liken to that of a Gatling gun. I retired indignantly, at the same time resolving never again to interfere in domestic matters.

OIL WITNESS WON'T ANSWER

Declines to Tell Whether Standard Absorbed His Company

HEARING LIKE A FARCE.

E. T. Bedford, Director in Standard Oil Co., the First Witness, on Advice of Counsel Refuses to Answer Any Material Questions.

New York, Jan. 6.—Shouting defiantly at the Missouri attorney general, "I advise the witness not to answer that question, and the witness will not answer it!" Lawyers Rowe gave a sample of what may be expected of the inquiry into the affairs of the Standard Oil Co. conducted by the state of Missouri at the instigation of the reform governor, Joseph Folk. The hearing opened yesterday morning with E. T. Bedford, a director, in the witness chair. When the Missouri state representatives and the Standard Oil lawyers had calmed down, Mr. Bedford finally refused to answer the question put to him by Attorney General Hadley. It was: "Were you absorbed by the Standard Oil Co.?"

Another indication of the determined fight to be put up by the defendants was given before Mr. Bedford began to testify. The Standard Oil company's attorneys took advantage of an unused section of the code of civil procedure relating to depositions taken in this state on outside matters, and compelled Commissioner Sanborn to write down every word of the testimony in long hand.

The hearing was begun at 11:15 o'clock yesterday morning in the offices of Lawyer Henry Wolman at 74 Broadway, who is acting as New York counsel for Attorney General Herbert S. Hadley of Missouri. Frank Hagerman of Kansas City, attorney for the Standard Oil company, was the first arrival, taking his place at the table reserved for counsel. Attorney General Hadley was late in coming because of a train that didn't arrive on scheduled time. The hearing began shortly after Mr. Hadley arrived.

Testimony was taken before Frederick K. Sanborn, commissioner for the state of Missouri. This fight against the Standard Oil monopoly being waged by Gov. Folk under anti-trust laws of Missouri. Nominally the hearing is the result of a suit brought in the supreme court to annul the license of the Waters-Pierce Oil company, the Republic Oil company, the International Oil company and H. A. Williamson & Co. The attorney general aims to show that these four companies, despite their assertions, are in fact mere blinds for the Standard, subverting competition and restraining trade.

Representing these four companies and Standard Oil there were present at the inquiry, besides Mr. Hagerman, Alfred D. Eddy of Chicago, John D. Johnson of St. Louis, M. F. Elliot and William V. Rowe of this city. Subpoenas were served successfully on William G. Rockefeller, son of John D. Rockefeller, and nephew of John D. Rockefeller, H. H. Rogers, John D. Archbold, and Edward T. Bedford, all directors of the Standard Oil company. John D. Rockefeller and Charles M. Pratt have missed the professional subpoenas served up to date, the former having been out of the state nearly all of the time during the past six months.

It was all up with Tinker, and he was doomed to spend a term at work for which he was by no means fitted and forego a work at which he was doing great good.

We had no workshop in our city and used that of a neighboring town. Once a week those persons who were to go there were collected, marched to the "black Maria," driven to the station, put on the train and taken to their new place of confinement. One morning nine prisoners, including Tinker, were thus driven to the train. On being unloaded they were marched inside the station and put in care of a keeper, who was to take further charge of them.

It is here where Tinker fell under temptation. But who less than an angel would not have fallen? On the one hand a prison to which he had been consigned by a virago, on the other liberty. At the moment he alighted from the black Maria the keeper's back was turned. When the official saw him on the platform, supposing him to be there in his capacity as evangelist, he said: "Good morning, Mr. Tinker."

An inspiration came to the prisoner. Taking off his hat, closing his eyes and throwing up his head, he began to pray more intently than he had ever done before for the poor fellows who were going to the workhouse. He had scarcely begun when a car was backed up, and the keeper shouted, "All aboard!" The train pulled out, and Tinker disappeared in the crowd.

A few hours later word came to the jail that one of the prisoners scheduled to be turned over at the workhouse was missing, and Tinker's name was discovered. But it was too late. The evangelist had but a few miles to go to get into another state. Once beyond the line he was safe so long as he kept out of the state in which he had been convicted.

Whether or so we regard Tinker's prayer at the station as blasphemous, there are few of us who will not secretly rejoice at his escape.

OPEN PUBLICITY THE BEST GUARANTEE OF MERIT.

When the maker of a medicine, sold through druggists for family use, takes his patients fully into his confidence by frankly and fearlessly publishing broadcast as well as on its bottle wrapper, a full list of all its ingredients in plain English, this action on his part is the best possible evidence that he is not afraid to have the searchlight of investigation turned full upon his formula and that it will bear the fullest scrutiny and the most thorough investigation.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for the cure of the weaknesses, periodical pains and functional derangements of the female system is the only medicine of its kind put up for sale through druggists for women's special use, the maker of which is not afraid to take his patients into his full confidence by such open and honest publicity.

A glance at the published ingredients on each bottle wrapper will show that it is made wholly from native, American, medicinal roots, that it contains no poisonous or habit-forming drugs, no narcotics and an alcohol—pure, triple-refined glycerine of propyl strength being used instead of the commonly employed alcohol, both for extracting and preserving the active medicinal properties of the roots of the American forest plants employed. It is the only medicine for women's peculiar diseases, sold by druggists that does not contain a large percentage of alcohol, which is in the long run so harmful to woman's delicate nervous system. Now, glycerine is perfectly harmless, and serves a valuable purpose by possessing intrinsic value all its own, and besides it enhances the curative effect of the other ingredients entering into the "Favorite Prescription."

Some of the ablest medical writers and teachers endorse these views and praise all the several ingredients of which "Favorite Prescription" is composed, recommending them for the cure of the very same diseases for which this world-famous medicine is advised. No other medicine for women has any such pronounced endorsement—more than any number of ordinary testimonials. If interested, send name and address to Dr. E. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for his little book of extracts from the words of eminent medical writers and teachers, endorsing the several ingredients and telling just what Dr. Pierce's medicine is made of. It's free for the asking.

Midshipman. It is Alleged, Had to Bring Marconi His Breakfast.

Annapolis, Jan. 6.—Midshipman Peter B. Marconi of Providence, a member of the first class, was put on trial yesterday on the charge of having hired George H. Mann, an attorney of New York city, who was a member of the class of 1895, naval academy. The specifications allege that Midshipman Marconi, while on duty, had been compelled to perform "No. 16," that Marconi had fourth classman Benjamin W. Tye of Atlanta, Ga., by compelling him to bring him his breakfast on different occasions, and that Midshipman Albert C. Bryant of Canton Bend, Ala., a fourth classman, was compelled by Marconi to bring him his breakfast, to stand on his head about twenty times, and perform "No. 16" about fifty times. No charge against any other midshipman has been filed as yet, but the academy authorities state that the court will be kept supplied with charges at the termination of each case for an indefinite period.

GEN. BINGHAM WARNED TO CUT OUT EPPLETTIVES

Vigorous Language of New York Police Commissioner Calls Suggestion from Mayor, This Said.

New York, Jan. 6.—Gen. Bingham, the new police commissioner, went down to the City Hall on a hurry-call from the mayor Thursday, and was charged with vigorous language of New York Police Commissioner Calls Suggestion from Mayor, This Said.

It was said at the City Hall after the general had gone away that the mayor had suggested to him it might be just as well, perhaps, to so discourse with the newspaper men that when the speech typewritten it would not cause Sunday school teachers to cross the general off their visiting lists. May be it's all an error about the mayor suggesting it, but somehow or other the impression seemed general that the general had been "tipped off" to eliminate extraneous matter from his interview observations.
